Subject: AMS Library Asst. position

Martinovich, Nicholas N.
[Columbia University]

1926-1934

March 24, 1926.

My dear Mr Newell:

This package is the catalogue (prepared, certainly, by an unlearned man) of a collection of coins. They sell this collection in Beirut, Syria. All the details you can obtain from Dr Dimand, Metropolitan Museum; if you have no interest in this collection, please, send back the catalogue to Dr. Dimand.

Faithfully yours

N. Mordtmann

May 8th, 1926

Dr. Nicholas N. Martinovitch
311 East 124th Street
New York City

Dear Dr. Martinovitch:

I was hoping to see you at the Oriental Club on Tuesday evening as I had a matter which I wished to take up with you:

We are thinking of making a change here in the autumn, and there may possibly be a position open for a man or woman who has a good knowledge of languages, and who could work into doing some of the library work and who could possibly handle proof-reading. The thought occurred to me that you might know someone among the Russians here who would fit into such a position - someone with education and culture. Unfortunately, this Society is not in a position to offer a large salary, but it might be more than a foreigner would otherwise receive.

If you could come up to see me at some time should you have anyone in mind whom you think might be suitable, I should be very glad to talk the matter over with you.

Very truly yours,

Curator

May 13th, 1926

Dr. N. M. Martinovitch
Columbia University
New York City

Dear Dr. Martinovitch:

I am very sorry to find that I overlooked some Museum conferences, for which I am engaged, and which are to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. If you can arrange to be here on Thursday instead, I shall much appreciate it.

Regretting that I am not free before Thursday, and trusting that this day will prove equally convenient for you,

Very truly yours,

Curator

Feb. 5,1931

Mr. Nicholas N. Martinovitch
450 W. 152nd Street
New York City

Dear Mr. Martinovitch:

Please excuse me for bothering you again, but although you so kindly translated the letter to Mr. Newell, and he has faithfully conveyed this translation, I am unable to make out the name of the writer; and I should be ever so much obliged if you would kindly repeat the name and number and street. The town is Armarvir, I think.

Thanking you for your courtesy,

Very truly yours,

Curator.

April 13,1931

Mr. Nicholas N. Martinovitch
450 West 152nd Street
New York City

Dear Mr. Martinovitch:

Would you be so kind as to translate the enclosed letter for me. If you should have done so and are going to the Club to-morrow night you might hand it to Mr. Newell as I do not expect to be present.

With much appreciation of your courtesy,

Sincerely yours,

Curator.

February 7, 1934.

Dr. Nicholas N. Martinovitch
450 West 152nd Street
New York City.

Dear Dr. Martinovitch:

Can you give me the translation of the Russian on the enclosed Medal? One of our trustees has asked me to get this translation. I remain

Very truly yours,

HW:JG

Curator